

PetZONE360™ Teams Up with Erchonia Corporation for PZ3 Live Expo 2024

November 15, 2024, Lake Mary, Florida, USA. PetZONE360™ is excited to announce that Erchonia Corporation is the headliner sponsor for its PZ3 Live 2024 Expo.

A new horizon in veterinary technology, PZ3 Live Expo is an annual veterinary technology event that brings together veterinary professionals, veterinary technology companies, and pet technology companies from across the world. The event serves as a platform for collaboration, learning, and discovering the latest advancements in animal health technology. PZ3 Live Expo offers community-driven networking through a curated B2B program that allows attendees to engage directly in veterinary and pet technology markets.

Erchonia Corporation is a leading global provider of low-level laser technology, offering safe and effective solutions for physicians, chiropractors, physical therapists, health clinics, and veterinarians worldwide.

“Erchonia’s mission transcends beyond just providing technology—it is about reimagining the possibilities. We believe that with every advancement we make in low-level laser technology, we are a step closer to a world where veterinary care is more efficient, less invasive, and highly effective. Partnering with PZ3 Live allows us to bridge the gap between innovation and its real-world application, showcasing the myriad of ways our technology is setting new standards in animal health. PZ3 Live offers us the ideal platform to share insights on how laser technology is revolutionizing the veterinary field and to demonstrate how our innovations contribute to healthier lives for animals worldwide,” said Aaron Shanks, Marketing Director, Erchonia Corporation.

The conference will be held from April 26-28, 2024, at The Expo at World Market Center Las Vegas, Nevada, USA. The event features two days of cutting-edge continuing education sessions focused on technological advancements through artificial intelligence and various methodologies. Session topics delve into various facets of veterinary study such as medicine and clinical practices, data and communication, telemedicine, and practice management.

“We are thrilled about this inaugural event and are extremely grateful for Erchonia’s support and trust in PZ3 Live. We love working with the Erchonia team already and we cannot wait to help them promote and showcase their innovative products and help enhance their presence in the veterinary market,” said Manolita Moore, PetZONE360™ & PZ3 Live CEO and Co-Founder.

We cordially invite all future-thinking veterinary professionals, particularly practice owners, to participate in our live event and explore implementable practice strategies and innovative technologies emerging within the veterinary care space. Take advantage of our inaugural and early-bird DVM rates. Register Now!
